

Local Interest Bills Slow Up Legislature

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Disputes over two special interest bills brought legislative machinery practically to a halt in the Arkansas House today.

The lower chamber spent its entire morning session listening to arguments over the two measures — one designed to prevent closing of a depot at the small Columbia County town of Taylor, and the other to eliminate automobiles from a law granting certain sales tax exemptions in Miller County.

The House finally defeated the depot bill, 55 to 26, although its author, Columbia County Rep. Harry B. Colay, made one of the most impassioned speeches of the session in its behalf.

The sales tax bill ended where it started the day — in the Revenue and Taxation committee. Nevada County Rep. Clyde O. Wahlquist, author of the sales tax bill, opened this dispute by objecting to the manner in which it was re-referred to the Revenue and Taxation committee Wednesday.

Miller County Rep. Hays C. McClerkin, who had the bill referred, won the day by getting it back in the committee again after Wahlquist was successful in having it voted out.

The debate over the depot bill lasted 40 minutes and discussion of the sales tax measure consumed almost half an hour. The House recessed shortly before noon because it had already agreed to meet at 1 p. m. in committee of the whole to hear an explanation of a proposed Commercial Code.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An administration-backed bill for a $20 million "standby" highway construction bond issue was approved by the Arkansas Senate Wednesday, and the House rejected a measure which would have allowed political subdivisions in dry counties to vote wet.

Both chambers passed a number of budget bills. Gov. Orval E. Faubus would be permitted to call a special election on the highway bond issue bill which passed the Senate.

Such an election would be authorized if the highway commission certified that the money was needed to match federal road funds which might otherwise be lost.

The measure now goes to the House. The local option measure, authored by Rep. Boss Mitchell, would have allowed portions of dry counties to vote wet. Portions of wet counties can now vote dry, but a countywide dry vote is binding on all subdivisions.

Grandmother on Trial in Slaying

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Carrie Talley, 66, will go on trial in Garland Circuit Court Feb. 23 for the fatal shooting of her granddaughter last September.

Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs set the trial date Wednesday.

Mrs. Talley said she only meant to frighten 17-year-old Carolyn Talley by firing a gun when the girl walked onto the porch of a house where Mrs. Talley was babysitting.

Santa Maria Is Discharging 600 Passengers

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

RECIFE, Brazil (AP) — Their captivity ended, the passengers of the hijacked liner Santa Maria came ashore today with thanksgiving for deliverance from a nightmare at sea.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A Brazilian admiral told the U.S. Navy Caribbean commander the liner Santa Maria reportedly will steam back into international waters after discharging her captive passengers at Recife today.

The 20,906-ton Portuguese ship steamed into Recife at noon, anchoring just off a dock. An hour later the nearly 600 passengers began loading onto tugs for the last 500 yards of a detour that had taken them virtually the distance of a trip across the United States.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
RECIFE, Brazil (AP) — A Brazilian naval source said the Santa Maria is expected to dock about noon today and discharge its nearly 600 captive passengers.

His optimistic prediction came after another tense session of bargaining between rebel leader Henrique Galvao aboard the seized liner and Brazilian authorities ashore.

The passengers, about 45 of them Americans, were growing restive, at times verging on panic, as they waited within sight of land about three miles from this Brazilian port.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
RECIFE, Brazil (AP) — Growing unrest among the captive passengers of the Santa Maria verged on panic today as the rebel commander held out for freeing them on his own terms.

The price laid down by Capt. Henrique Galvao was that his band of self-styled revolutionists be allowed to keep the ship they seized at sea and be given fuel, food and water to carry on their fight against Portugal's dictator Antonio de Oliveira Salazar.

The 20,906-ton luxury liner gingerly straddled the three-mile limit of Brazil's territorial waters off Recife as the rebel leader bargained with Brazilian government officials.

Galvao, 65, demanded assurances that the ship would not be interned if it docked — crushing the seafaring revolt he launched 12 days ago.

Brazil's new President Janio Quadros has guaranteed his "old friend" Galvao and his 70-odd insurgents political asylum. Out Quadros indicated international law might prevent his letting the rebels keep their $16.6-million prize.

Negotiations with the rebels were being directed by Quadros, an unpredictable independent and no friend of Salazar, from Brazil's new jungle capital Brasilia 1,000 miles away.

There were indications that Quadros, 44, might be searching for a loophole in the law to enable him to accommodate Galvao and at the same time fulfill his Technical obligations to Portugal.

One suggestion was that he recognize a "state of belligerency" between Galvao's band and the Portuguese government, a maneuver some sources said would give Galvao 72 hours in port to refuel, then permit him to strike out on the high seas again.

Humberto Delgado, the Portuguese rebels' titular leader who stayed in Brazil while Galvao and his band of 70 seized the ship, reportedly went out to the Santa Maria in a private boat Wednesday night. There was speculation he might be carrying a new offer from the Brazilian government or mapping the insurgents' next move with Galvao.

With land in sight, some of the passengers were reported at the point of unarmed rebellion against their captors. Cmdr. Helio Leite, captain of the Port of Recife, after a visit to the ship said several women were becoming hysterical and screamed at the armed rebels patrolling the cruise ship.

Biting Cold Stings NE Part of U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Biting cold stung the northeast quarter of the nation today as winter's longest siege of severe weather showed no signs of a general break.

Record low readings for the date were reported in some eastern cities as the cold wave moved into the third week in some sections.

The frigid belt extended over most of the North Atlantic Coast states, most of Pennsylvania, northern Lower Michigan, eastern Upper Michigan, northern Minnesota and North Dakota.

The mercury plunged to more than 30 degrees below zero in western New York and New York City shivered in zero weather, the coldest day in more than four years. It was the first zero weather for the nation's biggest city since Jan. 15, 1957 when the mercury also touched zero.

It also was zero in Newark, N.J., a record low for the date, and Boston's -3 was the lowest mark in the city in some two years of northern New England. The region, now in the 15th day of the cold spell, had a record cold wave of 16 days in 1917-1918.

In the Midwest, the icy air dropped thermometers to 19 below in Traverse City, Mich., -15 in Pellston, Mich., and -13 in International Falls, Minn. The -8 in Lansing, Mich., was a record for Feb. 2. It was zero in Detroit.

Sleets were clear in New England and most of the Atlantic Coast areas but snow was a possibility in New York City.

Snow fell in most of the Dakotas, Minnesota and Iowa, with more than three inches reported in Sioux City, Iowa. The snow belt was expected to cover northern Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, central and southern Ohio, West Virginia and Virginia.

Light rain sprinkled southern Missouri, eastern Arkansas, northern Mississippi, Alabama and western Tennessee. A thunderstorm was reported in Tyler, Tex.

Freezing weather was reported over most of the country except the extreme South and in most areas west of the Rockies.

Hero Ham Is Back on Job at Canaveral

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A little hero is back at his old job today — just pushing levers.

The hero is Ham, the chimpanzee who rocketed away Tuesday and was picked up safe and apparently sound a few hours later 420 miles away in the South Atlantic Ocean.

The day when an American human astronaut first ventures on a similar ride as a beginning to manned travel in space could well depend partly on studies of Ham.

Also upon careful examination of the huge capsule in which he rode, and yards of special taped information holding clues as to how the animal and his rocket actually performed on the daring ride.

Ham was flown back here Wednesday after being fished from the sea. Authorities said physical checkups and X-rays indicated he suffered no ill effects.

Ham was put right back at light workouts for several days in tests of his ability to push levers at the right times and to avoid slight electric shocks.

He had mastered this technique before his ride, and officials said data radiated from his capsule on first glance indicate he kept remembering "and thinking" how to do it despite the hazards and stresses of his space flight.

His post-flight tests will be compared for clues as to how man's brain might function in space travel.

Garland Collector Granted Parole

Owen pleaded guilty Sept. 15 to misuse of public funds.

Six Weeks of Bad Weather Indicated

QUARRYVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Three observers today reported groundhogs came out of frozen holes and saw their shadows, indicating six more weeks of winter according to folklore.

Robert W. Herr, chairman of the slumbering Groundhog Lodge of Quarryville, reported that a groundhog emerged and saw his shadow.

The groundhog was spotted by scout Jack Lefever, one of more than 50 members of the lodge out looking, in nearby Colerain Township.

With tongue in cheek, Lefever reported that when the groundhog came out of its hole it was carrying a Harvard diploma. Lefever said the groundhog explained that was the only way you can get anywhere.

Fred Ulmer, curator of mammals at the Philadelphia Zoo, said a groundhog named "Hammy," an official forecaster for the last four years, saw his shadow about the same time.

Neither the cold nor subfreezing temperatures deterred the Quarryville lodge from coming out today. They shed their dignity and decorum for highinks in the open. They put on silk hats, white robes over their coats.

In Punxsutawney, Pa., undaunted by subzero weather, Punxsutawney Phil emerged from his winter quarters, spied his shadow lying across snow-covered Gobblers Knob and scampered back inside.

Thus, at 7:41 a. m., Phil, more aptly described as a groundhog or woodchuck, carried out his annual duty, as a weather prognosticator. Six more weeks of winter, he said.

Phil didn't actually say it. His shadow spoke for him. For that's the legend that has existed in Punxsutawney since before the turn of the present century, 1898 to be exact, according to Sam Light, president of the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club.

Appeals for More Pensions, Jobless Aid

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today handed Congress a sweeping anti-recession program built on faster federal spending, higher old age pensions and an emergency extension of unemployment pay.

Kennedy's tightly-packed 7,500-word special message brought out news that joblessness rose by 900,000 in January to a total of 5.4 million.

The President said he would submit further proposals to Congress within 75 days if business does not improve.

His message spoke of the general expectation that there will be "minor improvements" in business this year. But he added "speaking out of realism, not pessimism, we cannot rule out the possibility of further deterioration if we fail to act."

Kennedy predicted his economic proposals would "abate the waste and misery" of unemployment and "restore momentum to the American economy." He said they would not, by themselves, unbalance the $80.9-billion budget unveiled last month by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Yet Kennedy did not provide Congress with cost estimates of any of his proposals today as he:

1. Called for quick approval of higher Social Security benefits for some 4 1/2 million Americans, including a $10 boost in the minimum monthly pension; a two-step two-year increase in the $11 minimum wage to $1.15 and then $1.25 an hour; a speedup in federal contract-letting and construction; government aid to depressed areas; federal relief payments for the children of jobless fathers.

2. Announced executive actions — besides those disclosed in his news conference Wednesday — to stimulate credit, release $724 million of highway funds to the states at once, and start a quickie expansion of urban renewal, local public works and college housing.

3. Disclosed he shortly will send Congress tax reform proposals to spur business investment and close tax loopholes; and another message demanding permanent

Brando Lives Just the Same at Tahiti

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

(Second of three articles on Brando in Tahiti)

PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP) — How does Marlon Brando live in Tahiti? The same as he does in Hollywood—by his lonesome.

Brando is one of the noted individuals of our time, and he is maintaining that reputation here in the South Seas.

He lives a few miles out of town in a thatched house, open to the elements like most dwellings on the island. The house is on the palm-lined shore of the lagoon surrounding Tahiti. Nearby is another house where lives Bob Hoskins, Brando's friend since childhood and dialogue director for "Mutiny on the Bounty." There is another house for servants.

He mingles with other movie makers on the location. That does not mean he is aloof. Before the film started two months ago, he opened his home to 200 of the film company and greeted each with geniality at the door. The party cost him $2,000.

He is friendly but not chummy with the largely English cast for the Bounty saga. Aboard ship he occasionally plays chess with Tim Seeley, who has the part created by Franchot Tone. But much of the time he is closeted in his room below deck.

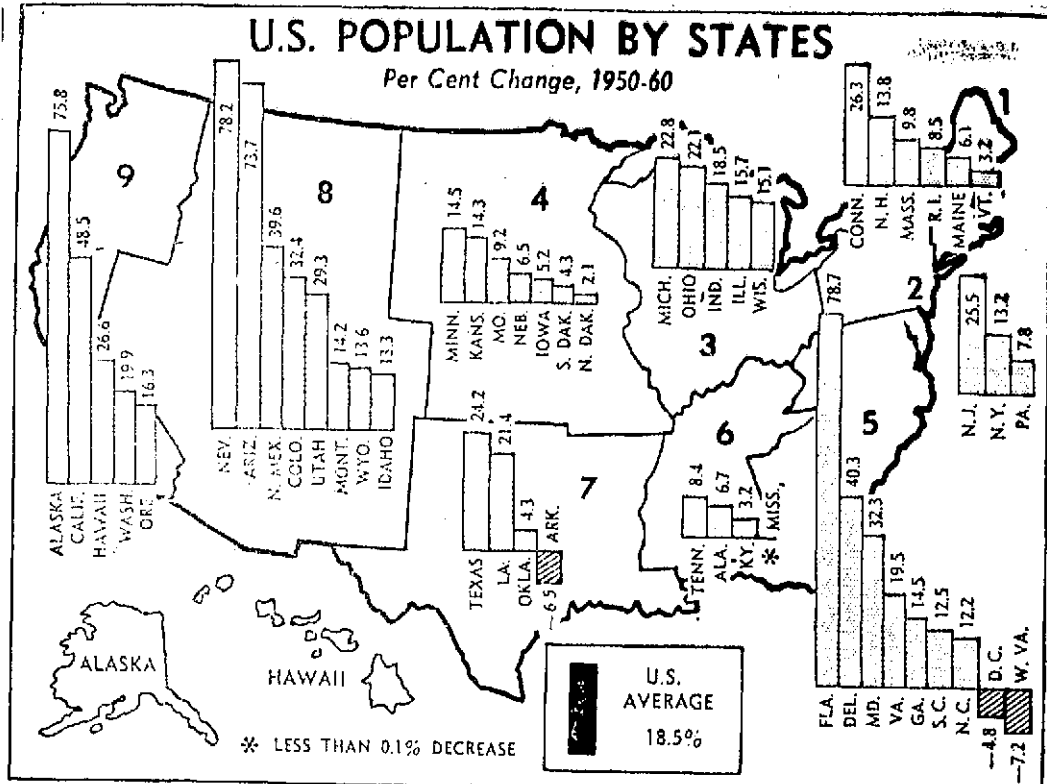

He reads: "I could have financed a small picture company with the cost of bringing my books out here by air," he commented. What does he read? "A lot of Dylan Thomas lately; he was a real character. Also I've been reading some Nietzsche. I don't know much about philosophy, but he seems rare—a real, biting satire."

He reads much poetry aloud.

He keeps up with world news by having the Sunday New York Times (30 cents) air mailed to him for $28 a copy. He is interested in news of the new Kennedy administration.

It's no all work and study for Marlon. He is frequently seen in the local night spots, sometimes dancing spiritedly in bare feet. He is never at a loss for female companionship.

On New Year's Eve, he hired one of the island's rattle-trap buses.

BOOM GROWTH IN WEST—The nation, broken into nine regions on Newsmap above, showed an average 18.5 per cent gain in population from 1950 to 1960. Fastest growing regions were those embracing the Rocky Mountain states (Region 8) and the Pacific coast states, including Hawaii and Alaska (Region 9). Next in order were the South Atlantic states (Region 5). Highest individual state gain was 78.7 per cent recorded by Florida. Nevada was close behind with 76.2 per cent. West Virginia, Arkansas and the District of Columbia showed small losses.

DOUBLE-JOINTED — Amphibious truck raises its right wheels to clear a big log in Portland, Ore., where the strange vehicle was invented by Elmer A. Wagner, a tractor manufacturer. Each of the wheels can be swung in a 360-degree arc. A propeller in rear drives it through water. Wagner says it can be used in the military, construction work, survey and exploration projects and hilly farming.

es and filled it with 15 of the native girls who dance in the movie. They circled the island singing Tahitian songs with great gaiety.

He goes skin diving and water skiing, but refrains from fishing; he doesn't believe in killing animals except when necessary.

Theoretically, Brandon is only a paid actor on the picture. In practice, it works otherwise. He is consulted on all policy matters. And his desires are always carried out. When he wants changes made in the script, they are made. This does not always set to well with the other actors.

Brandon in Tahiti is different from the guarded, suspicious star in Hollywood. Here he will strip down and race into the surf to ride waves with natives, other "Mutiny" workers and a visiting reporter. I am able to report this; He is a better actor than wave rider.

Advices JFK to Build to Farm Program

By EDWIN G. HAACKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats and Republicans who steered farm legislation in Congress in recent years had this advice today for the Kennedy administration: Build on existing farm programs.

The legislators saw little chance in Congress for any drastic farm proposals.

The advice comes before the new administration gets down to drafting the farm proposals President Kennedy will submit to Congress within the next two weeks.

A three-member task force committee on "the key elements of the agricultural situation" handed the new administration its farm program recommendations Tuesday. They came closer, in some respects, to meeting promises of the Republicans rather than of the Democrats in the 1960 campaign.

The committee opposed increase in price supports for major commodities and expressed the view that farmers would be unlikely to support rigid farm production control measures.

Kennedy's campaign farm program and the Democratic platform favored higher price supports and measures to control farm production and to halt surplus output.

On Capitol Hill today, Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of the senate agriculture committee, said: "With the possible exception of wheat and its surpluses, I think the best chances are to improve and continue our existing programs."

In the House, Rep. Charles B. Boevey of Iowa, senior Republican on the House Agriculture Committee, said he doubted that Congress would pass a general farm bill this year.

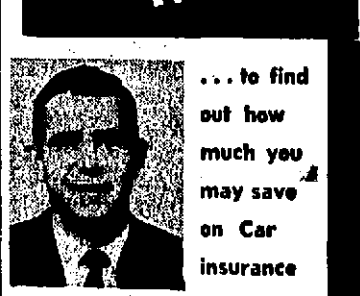

Another veteran farm legislator, Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., questioned the alarm of some persons over the surpluses of food and farm products in this country.

"If (Soviet Premier) Nikita Khrushchev could match our farm production he would feel he was on top of the world," Aiken said.

Members of the task force were Lauren K. Soth, editorial page editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune; J. Norman Efferson, dean of the College of Agriculture of Louisiana State University, and Jesse W. Tapp, vice president of the Bank of America at San Francisco.

Suit Filed to Freeze Cash on Prisoner

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit has been filed to attach $6,699 which FBI agents found in the possession of John Raymond Buskirk, 38, of Toledo, Ohio, when they arrested him at Pine Bluff last Friday.

The suit was filed in Pulaski Chancery Court by Mrs. Helen Barbara Allison of Indianapolis, Ind. FBI agents said Van Buskirk and Mrs. Allison were married two days before he left her in Knoxville, Tenn.

Mrs. Allison said Buskirk wrongfully took $8,400 from her Jan. 24 and $3,000 Jan. 26 and also had a watch and diamond ring belonging to her.

A warrant issued at Knoxville, Tenn., on Mrs. Allison's complaint charges that Buskirk obtained from her by fraud, scheme or trickery $8,000 after taking her from Indianapolis to Knoxville.

Buskirk also is charged in Toledo with assault with intent to rape. He was arrested on federal

Co-ops Warned of the Future

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Representatives of Arkansas farm co-operatives have been told if they are satisfied with their 1961 status they need not worry about 1970 because "you won't be here."

J. K. Stern of Washington, D. C., president of the American Institute of Cooperation, issued the warning Wednesday at a closing session of a conference of Arkansas farm co-operatives.

Stern said co-ops must change warrants charging him with flight to avoid prosecution.

Buskirk is held in Pulaski County Jail here in lieu of $10,000 bond on the flight charge and $25,000 bond on the fraud charge.

Suggests No Home Movies on TV Show

By FRED DANZIG

United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jack Paar's journeys to Europe, Africa and Asia appear to have rewarded his family and friends with many happy, inspiring memories. And that is as it should be.

But why the peripatetic Mr. Paar elected to show the home movies that he took while on the road for an entire one-hour NBC-TV special can probably best be answered by his accountant.

As a TV-program, "The Square World of Jack Paar" offered amateurish, heavy-handed, uninformative, pointless and, above all, dull material. The hour seemed to be a throwaway. Surely, Paar is capable of doing clever, zany things. His first nighttime special last season was a venturesome project that deserved better treatment than it got from the critics. I hope he hasn't been scared off.

But film clips of British wax museums, Venetian canals, Spanish bull rings, and a narrative with lines such as "Monaco — that's where Princess Grace lives," or Paar's determined impression of the Charlie Chaplin toddle — it all smacked of a "Hey, Ma, look at me get laughs with this lampshade on my head" approach.

The program wasn't serious enough to command attention as an instructive documentary. It wasn't funny enough to be enjoyable.

Only at the end of the hour was there a touch of immediacy and interest, as well as humor. Paar repeated a bit of his late night show when President Kennedy — then Sen. Kennedy — visited the studio. It was hard to believe that it took place only last spring.

Bobby Darin, the music world's roving ambassador of ill will, brushed his way through his own full-hour special Tuesday night.

Joining Bobby in his big venture on NBC-TV were Bob Hope, singer Joanne Sommers, the Jud Conlon singers, a squad of dancers, and the Billy May Orchestra. The show was called, "Bobby Darin and Friends." (He has no enemies, you see).

Somewhere between the conception of the show and the final taping, freshness, cohesion and drive disappeared. Attempts to blend Bobby into sets occupied by artful dancers and impressionistic designs were foiled by Bobby's own style. He has a facility for reducing class into flash. His tough-minded mannerisms grated against the lofty, handsome designs of Bud Yorkin and Norman Lear, the producers-directors-writers of the show.

Hope's chief contribution was a monolog, but while it was tied neatly to the headlines, it was delivered without the customary zeal. Miss Sommers displayed a voice that has a fundamental feel for color — something Darin lacks in his songs — but she still seems to be searching for a style she can call her own.

The Channell Swim: Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll, creators of the "Amos 'n' Andy" voices, will create new voices for "Calvin and the Colonel," a new half-hour animal cartoon series that ABC-TV plans to present in the 1961-62 season. Producers are Joe Connelly and Bob Mosher, creators of "Leave It To Beaver."

Husband Willing to Risk Neck to Wipe Out Debts

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:
My husband and I love each other very much but we argue—about stockcar racing. He has the idea that he can win a lot of money. I say he can get killed.

We have two small children. He won't race unless I give him my blessing but if I did and something happened, I'd never forgive myself. Should I tell him he can race, or stick to my arguments against it. He is 24. I am 20.

We are in debt but getting our bills paid off. If my husband races, he can pay the bills quick and build a house. —Anxious Wife

Dear Anxious Wife: Generally speaking, I am opposed to any wife interfering in her husband's business. But when it endangers life, that's something else. I don't like the get-rich-quick idea. Gambling in any form is no profession for a man with a family. In this case, stand firm.

Dear Helen:

I am an 18-year old girl in need of plastic surgery. My family thinks I should accept the face God gave me but a defect is making me a miserable stay-at-home. It can be corrected.

Please give me the name of a plastic surgeon. —Unhappy

Dear Unhappy: I'm all for anything that boosts a girl's morale; new hat, new dress, even a new face but, alas—it would be going

Change Trims One County in the State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A reapportionment plan filed with the Secretary of State would trim one representative from the Mississippi County delegation in the Arkansas House and add one to the Miller County delegation. All other counties would retain their present representation.

The plan was submitted Wednesday, the deadline for its filing.

Each of the state's 75 counties must have at least one representative with the 25 other House seats distributed among counties with the largest populations.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, head of the three-member State Board of Apportionments, said the board felt the plan was the most equitable.

Pulaski Reps. Gayle Windsor and Glenn Wallther predicted an Arkansas Supreme Court challenge of the plan because Pulaski County was allotted no additional seats despite a 10-year population increase of more than 50,000.

The present Pulaski delegation has eight representatives.

Under the new plan Mississippi, Jefferson and Sebastian each would have three representatives and Miller, Benton, Craighead, Crittenden, Garland, Ouachita, Phillips, Polk, St. Francis, Union, Washington and White would have two each.

measures to "revise and strengthen" the unemployment compensation system—presumably by setting some form of federal standards for the states—and to extend the coverage to "several million" more workers in the retail and other trades.

4. Announced he will create a "President's Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy" with 21 members drawn from labor, management and the public. This body, whose chairmanship will be alternated annually between the secretary of commerce and secretary of labor, will advise on wage and price policies essential to the curbing of inflation, as well as such problems as automation and economy-crippling strikes.

5. Spelled out details of the moves announced Wednesday—cutting the interest on government-insured mortgages from 5 1/2 to 5 1/4 per cent; making early payment—within The next 30 to 60 days—of the $258 million of veterans' life insurance dividends due in 1961; and starting pilot food stamp plans in several areas.

The use of food stamps by needy families will be tested "as rapidly as possible" in localities in six areas—West Virginia, Pennsylvania, eastern Kentucky, northern Minnesota, Southern Illinois, and the Detroit area, he said. (Wednesday, Kennedy said the food stamp plan would be tried in five areas; a sixth area was added.) Kennedy held out the hope to veterans that they might get another insurance dividend check later on.

$2,670,000 to $3,200,000 under a bill introduced in the House by Conaway Rep. Clay Brazil.

Seventy-five per cent of the turnback funds would be shared equally, and the other 25 per cent would be distributed on a population basis.

The present formula is 60 per cent shared equally and 40 per cent pegged to population.

House approval was given to administration measures to boost maximum welfare grants to the aged and blind to $65 a month.

A bill to require the Highway Department to assume the obligation of a $38,000 bond issue which Paragould used to buy right of way for U. S. Highway 67 in 1949 was defeated by the lower chamber.

House bills introduced Wednesday included measures to: Authorize the Publicity and Parks Commission to study the feasibility of making a state park out of the Civil War battlefield of Marks Mill in Cleveland County.

Repeat the three per cent excise tax on liquor.

Require the state Vocational Rehabilitation Center at Hot Springs to give the Livestock Sanitary Board first priority on sale of any surplus equipment.

A bill to repeal a racially-inspired school board recall law was passed by the Senate. The measure previously cleared the House and now goes to Gov. Faubus, who is expected to sign it.

The recall law was passed at a 1959 special session as a means of recalling school board members suspected of integrationist tendencies. It was used only twice in such situations, and both times school board members opposed by segregationists were retained.

Also passed by the upper chamber was a bill to supplement present school district consolidation procedures. The measure now goes to the House.

The Senate also gave approval to a measure which would permit municipal employees to come under the state retirement system.

The upper chamber adopted a resolution urging physicians and medical societies to make a greater use of the University of Arkansas Medical Center as a hospital for paid patients.

Senate defeat came on a bill to specify that labor unions could be sued. Sen. Charles F. Smith of West Memphis, the author, said that while union officials or members can now be sued the union itself is exempted.

Senate introductions Wednesday included measures to:

Levy a 10 per cent tax on admissions to Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium, with half the proceeds to go for stadium improvements and the other half used to expedite a refinancing of the stadium's indebtedness.

Regulate trading stamp operations by requiring that stamps be redeemable either in merchandise or cash, impose a $100 annual tax on stamp distributions and require forfeiture to the state of the money equivalent of any stamps not redeemed within two years.

Wintry Pall Over Much of State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain and fog cast a wintry pall over Arkansas today. The Weather Bureau reported showers general over the state, with cool temperatures.

One fatality was reported on a fog-covered highway.

Lydia Seaton, 29, a Negro of Conway was killed Wednesday night in a two-car collision near Conway.

The Weather Bureau in Little Rock predicted rain to continue through this afternoon with a slight drop in temperatures.

The fog was expected to lift by afternoon.

The weather bureau predicted a warmer weekend with temperatures to drop again Monday.

Lowest temperatures for the next few days were predicted to be in the mid 30s.

Industrialist Found Dead

VAN BUREN, Ark. (AP)—Roy W. LaFollett, president of Plastics Unlimited, Inc., was found dead Wednesday inside a large metal container to which a natural gas line had been attached.

The chamber was in the 43-year-old LaFollett's office. Corporal Clovis Bryant ruled the death an apparent suicide. He said LaFollett had been dead since Monday.

The body was found by Victor Westcott, one of LaFollett's employees.

58 Pros Break Par in Palm Springs Play

By JIM BACON

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Six pros who carded 65s and 52 others who broke par are the guys to catch today as the $50,000 Palm Springs Desert golf classic goes into the second round of its 80-hole, five day play.

And the $50,000 prize to the lucky winner who scores a hole-in-one is still up for grabs although Dave Marr of Houston came heart-breakingly close when his ball rolled right over the cup on the 203-yard 16th at Thunderbird.

Marr's 65, however, was good enough to land him in a mass first place tie with Ken Venturi, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Rosburg, Dr. Cary Middlecutt and Charlie Sifford, the great Los Angeles Negro pro.

Sifford also was a near miss artist. Two putts that rimmed the cup and jumped out would have given him a 63—two strokes ahead of the field.

Grouped at 66 were Bob Shields, Jay Hebert and Don White. At 67 were Art Wall, Gardner Dickinson, Henry Williams, Jr., Fred Hawkins and Johnny Pott.

Fourteen more pros shot 68 and 15 made 69. Among the latter was Arnold Palmer, defending champion.

Joe Campbell, the Knoxville pro who won last year's hole-in-one jackpot, was one of a dozen 70 shooters.

Campbell disclosed that he almost repeated last year's feat on the fourth hole at Indian Wells.

Mike Souchak, always a contender, was disqualified for signing an incorrect card. His scorer put down a five when the former Duke football star actually shot a six.

Today, the 127 remaining pros switch to other courses. Of the four-Indian Wells, Thunderbird, Bermuda Dunes and Eldorado—it was the latter course that caused most of the trouble. Many of the pros there shot in the high 70s and some in the 80s.

On Sunday, the 60 low pros descend on Tamarisk, rated even tougher than Eldorado for the fight to the finish and the $50,000 pot.

Celtics, Hawks Post Victories

Three games on the sideline because of illness didn't effect the eyesight of Tommy Heinsobn.

The veteran scored 31 points Wednesday night in leading with Boston Celtics to a 124-120 come-from-behind National Basketball Association victory over the New York Knicks.

The victory kept the Celtics six games in front of Philadelphia in the Eastern Division as the Warriors downed the Nationals 122-113 in the second game of a double-header at Syracuse. In the opener the St. Louis Hawks boosted their Western Division lead to 11 games with a 137-131 decision over the second-place Detroit Pistons.

day to help pay for expansion of the stadium.

It would hike the cost of an Arkansas Southwest Conference football ticket from $4.00 to $4.40, for example.

Half the money from the 10 per cent tax would go to support a bond issue of up to $1,250,000 for stadium improvements. The other half would be used to pay off the existing bonded debt.

Sen. Roy Milum of Harrison introduced the bill. He said it had the backing of Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Milum said under existing conditions the 10 per cent fee would bring in from $15,000 to $30,000 a year.

Two Powers in Cage World Meet Tonight

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

St. Bonaventure and Bradley, two college basketball powers just seven points shy of perfect records, play tonight at neutral Madison Square Garden in New York in the first of two showdowns that should establish the chief challengers to top-ranked Ohio State's national supremacy.

The Bonnies are second-ranked with a 15-1 record that includes a two-point loss (84-82) to Ohio State in the Holiday Festival at the Garden during Christmas week.

It's the first appearance back in the Garden for Coach Chuck Orsborn's Bradley Braves since they won the National Invitation Tournament there last March, including an 82-71 semifinal victory over St. Bonaventure.

The Bonnies from Olean, N.Y., who won twice in the Holiday Festival before losing to Ohio State in the final, have lost but four games in their last 36—and all four have come on the Garden court. They're a three-point Broadway pick for the Bradley duel, which caps a doubleheader matching Connecticut and Manhattan in the opener.

National scoring leader Frank Burgess (32.4) hit 35 points as Gonzaga downed Fresno State, 102-80, and seventh-ranked Louisville, beat Tampa 103-74 Wednesday night for its 16th victory in 18 starts. Strong Memphis State (15-1) won its sixth straight, 83-70 over Tennessee Tech and Army (13-4) pushed its winning streak to nine, 90-67 over Colgate.

Texas Tech spilled Texas Christian 83-75 and moved into a tie with idle Texas for first place in the Southwest Conference. Oklahoma State beat Missouri 81-55 in a Big Eight test.

Drake (11-6) snapped a five-game losing streak, beating Iowa State 83-81. Rutgers scored a 74-73 victory over Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harton Semple Sewickley, Pa., scored a mild upset by downing Don Carner, Providence, R.I., and Joann Gunderson, Seattle, Wash., 4 and 3. The Semples will play Joe Mitchell and Nancy Roth, both of Fort Lauderdale.

Another feature match will send William Hyndman, Philadelphia, and Barbara Williams, Richmond, Calif., against Mr. and Mrs. Pete Dye, Indianapolis, Ind.

Memphis Mayor Henry Loeb told of Rebsamen's offer at a joint meeting of the City Commission and the Utilities Commission Wednesday.

Members of the Memphis Light, Gas & Water Commission called the opening feelers on the purchase price low but agreed to talk with Ark-La.

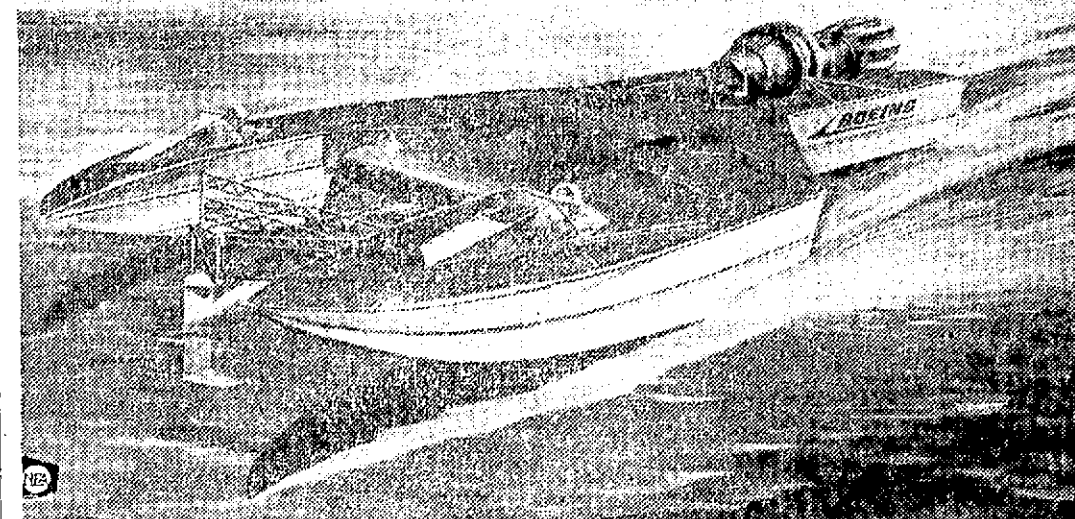

Ray Morton, LG&W Commission president, reported that LG&W has been negotiating with the Tennessee Valley Authority in private on a proposal that TVA take over the Memphis power plant.

Morton estimated the new worth of the system at 47 million dollars. "We could sell our gas division for 75 million dollars," said another commissioner. A third said the Ark-La offer "wouldn't be a drop in the bucket."

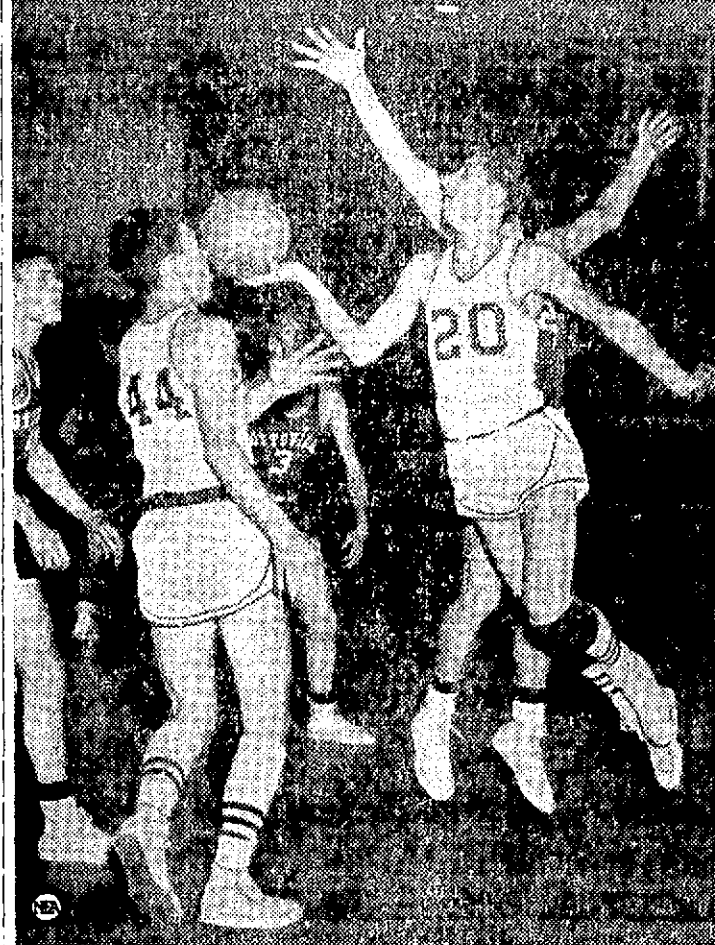

Loeb said, "If we have a chance to pick up 10 to 20 million in ready cash, get a substantial rate reduction and still have the private company pay its taxes, it's worth talking about."

Red River Barge Case Before ICC

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission hearing reached its final stages today on a Fort Worth, Tex., oil man's application to establish regular barge service on the Red River from Denison, Tex., to points on the lower Mississippi River.

ICC Examiner James Gaffney is conducting the hearing which started Monday. Barney Holland, president of the Heart of Texas Transportation Co. in Fort Worth submitted the application.

Several witnesses told Gaffney such a barge service would enable them to compete for business at more distant points.

Edward Jackson, a member of the Louisiana Board of Commerce and industry, said the service Holland proposes would be instrumental in bringing new industry to parts of Louisiana.

Last summer, Holland made a trial run from New Orleans to Denison on the Red River, using special equipment, including jet-type powered tugs which he said could negotiate the Red at its lowest phases.

Bill Raises Pay of City Judges

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Senate Wednesday passed 31-0 a bill to raise the salaries of municipal judges at Little Rock and 10 other cities. It now goes to the House for action.

Judges would receive raises at Fayetteville, Texarkana, Blytheville, Jacksonville, Russellville, Springfield, Batesville, Helena, Rogers and Dermott.

The Little Rock judges would be raised from $7,200 to $9,400.

Warns of Too Many Money Cutting Bills

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that too many revenue-reducing measures could endanger a state surplus in which schools and colleges and the Welfare Department are to share.

Faubus didn't elaborate but various tax-cutting bills have been proposed in the legislature, especially in the House.

Increased revenues have permitted the allotment of an "extra" $17 million — $10 of this to the schools, $3 million to colleges, $2 million to the Welfare Department and the remainder to various other agencies.

Faubus noted that under an expanded federal old age assistance program to start July 1, the Welfare Department will get $4 from the federal government for each $1 the state puts up.

The $2 million will be part of the state's share of this program. Faubus said, and pointed out that with federal contributions the total will be $10 million.

The University Medical Center Hospital will be helped, along with other hospitals, by expenditures from the funds which will help pay hospitalization for the indigent aged, Faubus said.

forces in Laos.

In recent days there have been persistent reports from the Congo that the Soviet Union and the United Arab Republic were delivering arms to forces backing imprisoned former Premier Patrice Lumumba against the shaky government of Premier Joseph Kasavubu.

These reports are a main source of apprehension here that the Congo civil conflict could quickly develop into an East-West struggle similar to that in Laos. Such a development would confront the United States and its allies with a decision whether to intervene directly on the side of the Kasavubu government.

Borg-Warner Moving Plant to Arkansas

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—All operations of the refrigerator-freezer section of the Norge Division of Borg-Warner Corp. will be transferred to Fort Smith, Ark., about July 1.

Norge officials said today this will include both gas and electrical refrigerator and freezer manufacturing operations and the headquarters of Norge's service division. All these have been stationed in Muskegon. The facility here, with about 1,800 employees and an annual payroll of about $10 million, will be closed.

Norge has a new $10 million plant under construction at Fort Smith. When it was originally announced Feb. 4, 1960, Norge officials said it would manufacture gas refrigerators and other appliances.

The overall transfer was announced Wednesday.

Norge officials said some employees would be transferred to Fort Smith. Estimates of the number ranged up to 300.

Splitting Up Court Areas Is Studied

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A joint legislative committee to study the possibility of re-districting chancery and judicial districts in the state would be set up under a resolution adopted by the Arkansas House today.

The resolution now goes to the Senate.

It calls for appointment of a committee — to meet with representatives of the Arkansas Bar Association and the Arkansas Judicial Council to prepare a re-districting plan.

Rep. Hampton Etheridge of Ashley County, said he has found that work loads of the various chancery and circuit courts are not equal. The resolution notes that legislation has been enacted in recent years to equalize the salaries of the various judges and Etheridge said he felt it was time for the work to be distributed more evenly.

Go Ahead for Space Trip by Man Signaled

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Winding up a space flight with a chipper, cheerful handshake, a chimpanzee called Ham today signalled a go-ahead for man to enter space safely.

Ham is due back this afternoon to this rocket space port—which he left abruptly Tuesday atop a Redstone rocket.

The largest animal ever sent aloft, Ham's trip 155 miles high and 420 miles southeast into the Atlantic into the rescuing hands of the U.S. Navy carried several main significances:

1. It indicates manned space flight is feasible. An American astronaut is scheduled this spring to duplicate Ham's daring flight.

2. The Soviets appear likely to be the race to be first to orbit a man around the earth.

3. A very slight mis-firing in the rocket system hurling out Ham's capsule may well require further tests with or without a chimp aboard, before a man goes up. But this also produced valuable dividends.

4. Ham himself is reported in excellent shape, a smart 37 pounds of amiability.

Plucked from the sea by a helicopter from the USS Donner, he shook hands with the veterinarian greeting him when his one-ton space capsule was unlatched three hours after launching.

After a medical checkup, Ham drew a bonus of a banana and a bit more apple on top of his scientifically prescribed menu.

His flight was one of graduated steps in a National Aeronautics and Space Administration program hopefully intended to put an American astronaut into several round trips about the earth in 1961.

In a big first step, Ham twice felt the crushing weight of increased gravity. Taking off, he weighed seven times more than earth, and on coming down at a 5,000-mile per hour clip into the atmosphere was subjected to forces 12 times normal gravity.

But, also, for about seven minutes he felt no weight at all in free fall as he lay strapped on a couch within a capsule exactly like that built to carry a man aloft.

All this didn't bother his senses, judging from early analysis of information radioed down to earth, said NASA officials. Ham had to press levers within certain time limits or else get an electric shock. Partial checks so far show he never got a shock.

Ham's test was a prelude to sending one of seven human volunteers on a similar flight.

But the Soviet Union bids to put a man in space for several reasons. The Soviets have long had far more powerful rockets. Sputnik II, launched in November 1957, carried up the dog Laika. Since then, the Soviets have recovered two dogs, each weighing about 10 pounds, aboard a space craft sent into orbit last August.

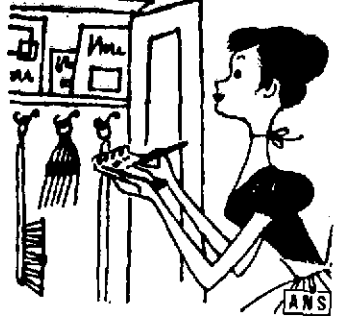

Soviet space capsules are big enough perhaps to carry even two men at a time.

Soviet ships now patrolling the Pacific indicate the Soviet Union is on the verge of some new launching.

The dividends of Ham's flight came through a lucky chance. The Redstone rocket burned fuel too fast. This triggered release of an escape rocket carried on top of Ham's capsule and gave an extra push so Ham traveled 40 miles higher and 130 miles farther than intended.

That gave Ham two extra minutes of being weightless and forced faster and hotter re-entry to the earth but cheerful Ham took it all without ill effects.

So- Simple

A check-list of cleaning jobs for fall is a smart idea. There are always a number of cleaning chores at this time of the year, and a schedule makes them easier to follow up—and finish!

✓ GIVE KITCHEN RANGE a complete cleaning. Follow range manufacturer's directions. For removing burned-on grease, use blue soap pads which have more soap and so last longest.

✓ CLEAN CABINETS, using a detergent, then line the shelves with fresh new paper. Scrub aluminum pots and pans thoroughly with a blue oval soap pad, which leaves them shiny bright for the busy days ahead.

✓ CLOSET SHELVES like a coat of wax to keep dirt from sticking and to protect finish—makes them easy to dust.

✓ PORCELAIN SURFACES—sinks, bathtubs, et cetera—can be quickly and safely cleaned with Tuffy, the little plastic mesh ball. Just use it with soap or a mild cleanser.

Conferences Could Become Good Lobby

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's televised news conferences — with the second coming today — could become a tremendous lobby for him.

1. From coast to coast he will reach various groups affected by his programs and by so doing stimulate them into pressuring Congress for action.

2. He will, to a degree never achieved by any other president, keep himself in the public mind.

He could, of course, manufacture disaster by pulling some prize boners in national view. He seems confident that he won't.

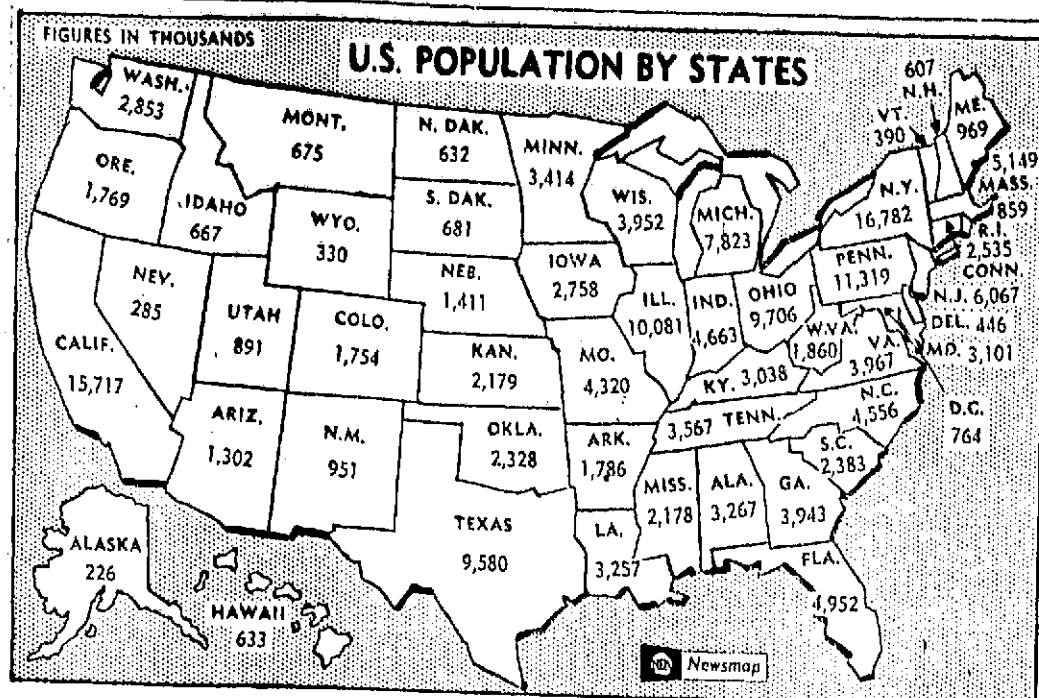

Washington is full of lobbyists paid by pressure groups to work on Congress for or against something.

Presidents from time to time have done their own lobbying.

Presidents Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower look to the airways when they had an explanation to make or sought public support.

But these were only occasional performances in special situations.

True, Eisenhower's news conferences also were televised, but they were shown later and then

TEN YEARS OF RECORD GROWTH—U.S. population increased by 28 million persons in the 1950-60 decade. Final total for the 50 states and the District of Columbia was 179,323,175. As in the previous decade the West-Pacific and mountain states—led all regions in growth. Population in the West increased 7.9 million or 38.9 per cent. This was the most populous, Newsmap above, and Alaska the least populous. Florida advanced from the 20th state in order of population to 10th place. With a 5.1 million gain, California surpassed all other states in amount of growth since 1950.

only in fragments.

Kennedy, with live TV appearances at every news conference, could make his three predecessors' efforts on behalf of themselves look meager.

Kennedy won't have to make any appeal. His answers to reporters' questions will include his ideas, proposals and programs.

Since at any one conference he will cover a varied field, his answers will have special interest to various affected groups.

For example, his proposals on a medical care plan for the aged will get the acute attention of older people.

He doesn't have to look at them through the camera and say, "I wish you'd back me."

His statement of the proposal—and perhaps an indication he is having trouble getting Congress to go along—will be impetus enough for a lot of people to get after Congress.

From a political standpoint—provided Kennedy doesn't make big blunders—the live TV news conferences should be of inestimable help to him.

He was a great unknown to most Americans when he began the presidential campaign. Vice President Richard M. Nixon was a widely known public figure with eight years to put himself in the public mind.

Nothing in the whole campaign did so much to shove Kennedy into the public consciousness as his TV debates with Nixon.

This public consciousness of him should increase beyond measure in four years of appearing weekly, more or less, on TV screens from coast to coast.

If he wants to run again in 1964, he'll have a firm foundation.

Tax Mail Is Cause of House Fuss

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Attitudes toward a deluge of mail against a proposed soft drink tax caused Mississippi County legislators to exchange harsh words in the Arkansas House Tuesday.

Rep. Kenneth Sulcer of Joiner took the floor first to declare that he did not wish to be identified with statements attributed to Reps. L. H. Autry of Blytheville and E. C. Fleeman of Minnola to the effect that much of the mail was "junk."

"I don't call it junk when my people write to express their opinions," Sulcer said. "I invite people to keep writing me on this or any other matter."

Fleeman and Autry last week showed large quantities of mail opposing the soft drink tax and said it was of questionable origin.

Fleeman took the floor after Sulcer Tuesday and apologized for some parts of his previous statement. He said he had not intended to imply that all mail was junk, but that much of the anti-tax mail came from persons handed cards by agents of bottlers, who oppose the tax.

Autry declared the Sulcer had angered him. "I resent the type of statement made by the gentleman to get his name in the paper," Autry said. "I don't approve of the tactics of my colleague and I don't think the people will."

Sulcer then took the microphone again and said he had been stating his own views and did not pretend to speak for anyone else. The dispute ended there.

Ribs of Beef Featured in Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ribs of beef, hearty fare for freezing winter weather, top the headline parade in the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this week.

Market supplies are running slightly larger than a year ago, government experts say. Production of the upper grades of beef from grain-fed cattle is expected to continue on the heavy side, with more middle or lower grades than formerly.

This week, however, rib roasts and steaks are far more numerous than less-expensive cuts such as chuck roast. Chains in the New York metropolitan area feature special ribs at 57 and 59 cents a pound compared with 69 a year ago.

Leg of lamb is featured in some parts of the East and lamb chops in the East and Midwest. Turkey is tops in parts of the Middle Atlantic states and Midwest.

Pork chops and butter off a bit in some areas and gains made by veal chops, pork chops and fryers in others. Eggs are higher by 2 or 4 cents a dozen over a wide area.

Heavy shipments of cabbage put the leafy vegetable at the head of the best buy list among vegetables this week, and also at the top of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's February list of plentiful foods.

Others on the best buy list include beets, broccoli, carrots, cauliflower, eggplant, endive, escarole, lettuce, parsnips, turnips, rutabagas, spinach, old crop butter-nut squash and several types of sweet potatoes such as orange and yellow Jersey and Oklahoma type.

Besides cabbage, good buys are beans, brussels sprouts, celery, corn, dandelion greens, parsley, radishes, straight-necked yellow squash from Florida, peppers, tomatoes and new round red potatoes from Florida.

Medium yellow onions also are a good buy.

Mushrooms, cucumbers, peas, watercress and the first California asparagus are fairly expensive.

Macintosh and Cortland apples, limes, tangerines and oranges head the best buy list among fruits. Avocados, bananas, emper-grapes, grapefruit, lemons, pineapples and anjou pears from the west and northwest are good buys. The fairly expensive group includes Mexican cantaloups, smallish peacock variety watermelons, also from Mexico, and a few strawberries.

Life Around Sections of Arkansas

By BOB HARING

Associated Press Staff Writer

The call to Pea Ridge firemen was just another emergency — a house on fire — but it turned out to be a whooper for oddities.

First water in a hose on the pumper froze during the three-mile drive from the station to the Clint Beaver home. Then it took all the fire truck's 500 gallons of water plus another 2,500 gallons from a cistern to get the fire out, with the water freezing just about as fast as it hit.

The real oddities, though, were: The fire "fried" and the firemen unintentionally "scrambled" several hundred hatching eggs being kept in the house.

In the kitchen, where the fire

So Simple

A CLEAN SWEEP for '61 doesn't mean discarding your pots and pans because you haven't time to take care of them! Homemakers now know that aluminum pans can stay bright and shiny, just by giving them a quick going-over with a blue oval soap pad after each use. The blue pad is loaded with soap and also has a rust-arrester. BABY'S CEREAL BOWL can be cleaned easily and safely with Tufty, a plastic mesh ball which removes all the hardened bits of cereal.

was hottest, food in a freezer was still frozen and undamaged.

The only piece of furniture to escape damage was a television set.

None of these things, of course, were very funny to Mr. Beaver, who not only lost the scrambled eggs, but most of his furniture and other possessions as well.

Cleaning out an old records vault at the Fort Smith city hall produced this memento of days gone by, from a city council minute book dated May 9, 1886.

"On motion, the financial committee is hereby authorized to direct the New York Bank Note Engravers to select some suitable vignette for the city five dollar bills ordered to be printed in the city of New York for use and benefit of the city of Fort Smith."

Such activity today would bring an immediate response — from the federal men.

Fort Smith also was the scene of a reunion last week. Gunnar Martinsson met a brother he hadn't seen for 33 years.

The brother, Sven Hennings, last saw Gunnar in 1928 at Boston. Sven returned to Sweden. Gunnar has been living in Boonville.

Finally they decided that 33 years was long enough without a visit and so they got together again.

Already in Race for Secy. of State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The election is still 18 months away, but Arkansas already has one announced candidate for Secretary of State.

Phil Stratton, 38, of Crossett, said today he definitely will seek the job. He predicted there will be seven or eight persons in the race.

The Secretary of State's job will be wide open in 1962 because the incumbent, Mrs. Nancy Hall, will not be eligible to campaign for re-election. Mrs. Hall was appointed to replace her husband, the late C. G. Hall, after his death last month. State law prohibits persons appointed to an elective office from succeeding themselves.

Other names being mentioned as possible candidates for Secretary of State include Land Commissioner Sam Jones, State Auditor Jimmie Jones, Crawford Rep. Milton Willis and Stu Prosser, a 1956 gubernatorial candidate now employed by the Arkansas Commerce Commission.

Jimmie Jones has declined to say he will seek the Secretary of State job, but he refers to it as a promotion and adds that "any politician is always on the look-out for a promotion."

The others have made no public comment on their possible candidacies.

JFK Program Could Find Going Tough

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — After scoring an important victory on enlargement of its Rules Committee, the House Democratic leadership today for a long fight to enact President Kennedy's legislative program.

The fight probably will be a tough one, since Tuesday's victory for the Kennedy administration and Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas was won with only a five-vote margin.

The House voted 217 to 212 to back Rayburn's plan to enlarge the Rules Committee from 12 to 15 members, wresting committee control from a conservative coalition. Theoretically this puts liberal Democrats in control by an 8-7 edge.

The White House reported Kennedy was pleased with the outcome. Officially he had taken no direct part in the fight, but left no doubt that he favored the Rayburn plan.

Under Tuesday's action, Democrats will add two members to the committee and Republicans will add one. Republicans also have two vacancies to fill on the committee.

The new lineup will be 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans. The committee previously had 8 Democrats and 4 Republicans—with the Republicans and two conservative Southern Democrats usually in control.

Democrats slated to be tapped for membership on the committee were Reps. Carl Elliott of Alabama and B. F. Sisk of California, both of whom have voting records friendly to legislation expected to be advocated by the President.

Three normally conservative Republicans had the inside track for vacant GOP posts. They are H. Allen Smith of California, Elmer J. Hoffman of Illinois and Katharine St. George of New York.

The House vote, while nominally wresting Rules Committee control from the coalition, indicated that the coalition is a force that must be reckoned with on the House floor.

It found 22 Republicans joining 195 Democrats to uphold Rayburn, and 64 Democrats and 148 Republicans voting against him.

Technically, the loser was Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., of the Rules Committee, who directed the fight against what he called "packing" the committee.

But Smith took comfort from the fact that he still is chairman of the committee and will have a dominant voice in deciding when it meets and on what subjects.

Plight of a Coal Miner Not Pretty

EDITOR'S NOTE: "I used to be a worker, a man, a husband, a provider. I no longer am any of these things. I cannot find a job." So spoke an ex-coal miner in Johnstown, Pa., and his words reflected the poverty and hopelessness of many workers in the steel and coal industries.

Nate Polowetzky, assistant general business editor of The Associated Press, is touring the depressed labor areas. This is what he reports in his first article from the steel-coal country.

By NATE POLOWETZKY

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — "I cannot identify myself," the letter read, "because I no longer have an identity."

"I used to be a worker, a man, a husband, a father, a friend, a provider, a neighbor and a member of a community, to mention only a few of my former identities; but I no longer hold a claim to any of these."

"I am no longer a worker because I cannot find a job. I cannot be a husband, a father, a provider, or even a man because I cannot provide a living for my family, which is my first responsibility."

The letter, signed, "an ex-coal miner," came to the desk of the editor of the Johnstown Tribune-Democrat.

"Ex-coal miner" said he was 43, married, and the father of 5 children, the youngest 9 years old.

In 1958, he wrote, "I received the final 'pink slip' from the mine where I had worked for more than 20 years. But until now, somehow, I still had hope."

"I believed that something would happen; somewhere a job would open up; sometime I would not be told, however, kindly 'Sorry, too old. Nothing for you,' or 'All filled up.'"

He added: "I am healthy and vigorous; my body aches to do an honest day's work, but I can find nothing but an occasional odd job."

The letter summed up the heartbreak and despair of thousands of the unemployed in the Johnstown area; which has been a "depressed" economic section consistently since 1953.

While there is some optimism here that things will get better in the future—a pickup in the dominant steel industry and the establishment of new industries to create jobs and diversification—the present unemployed situation is bleak.

Some 18,000 men were out of work in the two-county Johnstown area in mid-December 1960. Of these 10,300 were unemployed in the immediate Greater Johnstown area according to the most recent census.

Brazil said the counties desperately need money because costs of operating county governments have spiraled in the last few years.

The present distribution formula is 60 per cent divided equally and 40 per cent on a population basis.

The House has passed a bill which freezes distribution of the present $2,670,000 county turnback fund on a basis of 1950 population figures.

Brazil said that under the new distribution formula and the higher amount allocated under his bill, only five counties would receive less money than they got during 1960.

If the county turnback is not increased or if the freeze bill does not become law, 57 counties stand to lose turnback money.

HE HAS THE TOUCH FOR MODEL RAILROADING—Superimposed on a picture of the model pike he'll never see, is a photograph of William Frank, of Chicago, Ill. A machinist by trade, he lost his sight as result of an accident in a bomb casing plant during World War II. Refusing to be sidetracked, he designed and helped to build the layout and a day-night lighting effect for the railroad. In addition, Frank has racked up over 12,000 accident-free hours working in wood to help support himself, turning out such things as bowls and lamp bases with aid of home shop power tools. He uses a notched yardstick, a special band saw setup and special face plates for the lathe as aids.

area. The unemployment rate was almost 17 per cent, compared to about 7 per cent. Some other smaller communities are in worst shape.

Johnstown is but one of some 16 chronic unemployment areas in Pennsylvania, where 433,000 work force, were out of jobs as of mid-December.

Legislation is pending before Congress to provide aid to the nation's depressed areas; to help them retain their unemployed and to help them attract new industries into their areas.

It is unlikely, however, that this legislation, authored by Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and supported by President Kennedy, in itself will completely solve the depressed areas problem.

And even if a nationwide recovery should start—as expected by later this year—chronic unemployment probably will continue to exist in many areas.

Says Mayor Joseph Barr of Pittsburgh, in whose four-county labor market are an estimated 110,000 persons out of work, 60,000 of whom are chronically unemployed:

"Even if the steel industry returns to 100 per cent of capacity, we have reason to believe that this will not mean 100 per cent restoration of employment within the steel industry"—a sentiment echoed by spokesmen of the giant Steelworkers of America Union.

As a matter of hard fact, automation and improved technological processes have permanently eliminated tens of thousands of jobs in the steel mills and will continue to eliminate more in the future while maintaining high production levels.

Steel has been hurt by the recent national business downturn; and plagued by foreign competition and loss of markets to other materials such as plastics and aluminum — although there is some argument whether these two latter factors contributed to any large unemployment.

In mining, some mines have become exhausted or are to "high cost" to operate, creating pockets of chronic unemployment. Automation has made such headway in the mines that over-all production can be increased without hiring any of the present unemployed men.

Adding to the unemployment picture in Pennsylvania is the decline in railroading as a result of the depression in steel and mining.

But throughout the depressed Pennsylvania areas there is a growing awareness that communities can no longer depend on a single industry—or two—for their economic health.

"Diversification" has become the new motto.

Some communities — Scranton, Ellwood City, Altoona, Cannonsburg, Meadville, are examples — have succeeded in attracting new industries through self-improvement campaigns, revising their tax structures and through local and state industrial development plans.

Bill Would Increase Turnback

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bill to increase the county turnback from general revenues by $530,000 and to change the formula under which turnback is distributed was filed in the Arkansas House today by Conway County Rep. Clay Brazil.

Brazil said the bill had the backing of the Arkansas County Judges Association.

The bill would set the total amount of county turnback at $3.2 million and would provide that it be allocated 75 per cent equally among the counties and 25 per cent on a basis of population.

House Gets Dope on Retirement

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas House today heard an explanation of a proposed reorganization of the state Teacher Retirement System to bring teachers under the federal Social Security system.

The House went into committee of the whole immediately after it convened to hear A. G. Gabriel, a Detroit attorney, explain details of a plan drawn up Tuesday by a joint committee formed to study the retirement system.

Gabriel said the present teacher retirement benefit formula would be continued through June 30 of this year. Then, if the teachers elect to take Social Security benefits, the state program will be cut back.

The Social Security program, under federal law, can not be put into effect for teachers unless 51 per cent of those eligible vote for the program.

Gabriel said that the state proposes to reduce its contributions to the retirement program regardless of how teachers react to the Social Security program. If teachers reject Social Security, he said, the teacher contribution to the retirement system will be increased from 5 per cent to 10 per cent of the first $5,000 of their annual salary.

In any event, Gabriel said, the state contribution will not exceed 9.72 per cent of the first $5,000 of payroll. Under the current formula, the state should contribute 15.33 per cent. Last year, the state contribution was 11 per cent.

The cost of Social Security benefits would be borne by a three per cent contribution from the teacher and three per cent from the local school districts.

Gabriel said that in most cases the adding of Social Security would mean higher retirement benefits for teachers.

Youth Cleared of Setting Fire

MEMPHIS (AP)—Three Negro youths accused of setting a $10,000 school fire to delay midterm exams were cleared in juvenile court Tuesday.

Judge Sylvanus Polk dismissed arson charges. He said the state had failed to prove guilt beyond a reasonable doubt although "the court is not certain these boys did not commit the crime."

The Jan. 10 fire ruined a Geeter school building.

The Biblical talent, in terms of present-day money, was worth about $6,000.

Delicious Easy-Do Meal

This stuffed ham meal is tops to serve family or friends. Time spent in preparing the food is a matter of minutes. While it bakes enjoy visiting, catching the news on television or reading the evening paper. A good menu starts with chilled tomato juice or tomato juice cocktail. The stuffing for the ham takes the place of potatoes. A corn casserole, mixed green salad or cole slaw, and a relish of sliced crab apples and cottage cheese with some prepared horseradish mixed in it complete the main course. Dessert can be fruited gelatin and cookies, or an ice cream sundae.

Stuffed Ham Slices: Use 2 slices of canned ham about 3/4 inch thick. For larger slices cut them lengthwise. Mix 3 cups packaged seasoned bread dressing with 3/4 cup canned chicken broth, 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine and 1 medium size onion chopped. Put stuffing between ham slices in a baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 45 minutes. Six to eight servings.

Tasty Baked Corn:
8 ears (12 or 16 oz. each) 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup 2 slices bread
2 tablespoons butter 2 hard cooked eggs

Shallow drain corn, soup and Worcestershire sauce. Put in shallow baking dish. Cut bread into tiny cubes and toss in melted butter. Sprinkle over corn in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Serve garnished with hard eggs. Six generous servings.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE

By Henry Farrell

Copyright © 1960 by Henry Farrell Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE STORY: Blanche Hudson plans to ask Edna Stitt, the cleaning woman, to call a doctor for Jane, Blanche's sister. Blanche, crippled in a car accident years ago, believes that Jane is unbalanced mentally. Blanche is terrified by her sister's attempts to torture her.

Chapter X

The day passed quietly and without incident.

At seven, when Jane brought her dinner tray up to her and left it on the desk without removing its cover, Blanche felt none of the previous day's apprehension.

The food looked very wonderful. There were two perfectly grilled chops, a small helping of mashed potatoes, carrots and peas, a small green salad and a slice of cherry pie. Eagerly Blanche picked up her fork and took up some of the potatoes.

She had only just put the food into her mouth when with a sharp gasp she started forward. Letting her fork fall, unnoticed, to the floor, she reached quickly for her napkin. And then she stopped, staring down hard at her plate.

She saw now what she had not seen before; the entire meal had been carefully sprinkled over with fine, white sand.

For Blanche the night passed again in frightened and interminable sleeplessness. Now, as the day began to ripen, and a band of golden light appeared on the sill, Blanche waited with increased tenseness, praying fervently that Mrs. Stitt would come

8 Injured by Gas Fight for Lives

By JACK OWENS

NEW ROADS, La. (AP)—Eight persons, their lungs badly seared from chlorine gas which terrorized the tiny farm and lumber community of nearby Labarre, fought for their lives in a hospital today.

Whiffs of the chlorine gas, which escaped from a railway tank car derailed Tuesday, still hung in the air but the area is now considered safe.

A chemist said the ground was saturated with chlorine and it would "take a long time to wear out." The area was covered with soda ash and liquid caustic acid to neutralize the deadly green gas.

Seventeen people remain hospitalized, eight of them in "very critical condition."

The victims are likely to contract chemical pneumonia on the second day, doctors told newsmen. The gas killed an 11-month old boy and sent about 100 people to hospitals and clinics. Scores of farm animals were killed.

Eighteen cars of a Kansas City Southern freight piled up on the Louisiana and Arkansas tracks along State Highway 1.

The chlorine car burst open. Officers and volunteers, renouncing chlorine gas was involved, began warning residents to seek high ground to escape the fumes.

before Jane was up.

There was a slight scratching sound which, even from so great a distance, Blanche recognized as Mrs. Stitt's key being fitted into the lock of the back door. After a moment the door opened then closed again. Mrs. Stitt's footsteps echoed through the kitchen.

Blanche could visualize Mrs. Stitt putting away her hat and coat, taking down her cleaning apron, slipping it on, tying it around her waist. The footsteps resumed, approached through the lower hallway, crossed the living room and started up the stairs.

Entering the upper hallway, Mrs. Stitt came briskly forward. At the sight of Blanche sitting there in her chair, she stopped in the doorway in an attitude of surprise.

"Edna!" Blanche said. "You up already?" Mrs. Stitt asked. "With the house so quiet—"

"Come in here," Blanche said urgently, keeping her voice low. "Come in and close the door."

Mrs. Stitt, continuing to look down the hall, raised her hand in an abrupt gesture of warning. "Well, good morning," she said flatly. "I thought I heard you stirring around in there."

Jane, tying the sash around her soiled wrapper, appeared, swollen-eyed, in the doorway. Her slitted gaze went directly to the desk and the covered dinner tray. Without a word, she shuffled into the room, took up the tray and carried it hastily back in the direction of the door.

In the doorway Jane stopped and turned, her gaze narrowed upon Mrs. Stitt. "You better come down and get breakfast," she said.

Mrs. Stitt's face took on a faint flush of anger.

"It's nothing important," Blanche said resignedly. "You can take care of it when you bring my breakfast up."

Fifteen minutes later Blanche received her breakfast, but it was Jane who carried it up the stairs to her and not Mrs. Stitt. As on the previous morning, Jane put the tray down and removed the cover. It contained only the usual breakfast.

Blanche forced herself to eat. Mrs. Stitt knew now that she wanted to talk to her; certainly she would return upstairs before she left the house. As the hours of the morning slipped past, however, and Mrs. Stitt still did not come.

Moving her chair to the doorway, she paused and listened. There came a series of small sounds from the direction of the living room. Quietly, she moved her chair into the hallway and then out onto the gallery. At the bannister, peering down into the living room.

"Edna!" she whispered.

Mrs. Stitt, dusting the library table directly below, started slightly and then looked up. Stepping back quickly, she glanced off into the lower hallway. What she saw must have reassured her, for when Blanche motioned to her to come upstairs, she nodded and put down her cloth.

Blanche waited for her to catch up with her at the door of her room. "I was so afraid you weren't going to come upstairs again. . . ."

"I've been trying every way I knew. Shes been just determined to keep me from it."

As they entered the big room Blanche nodded back the way they had come. "Close the door," she said urgently. Mrs. Stitt nodded with a look of sharp concern. Her hand had only just touched the edge of the door when, with startling shrillness, the phone suddenly rang out in the hall.
